UMANG'S NEW HOUSE

Elly Lingga

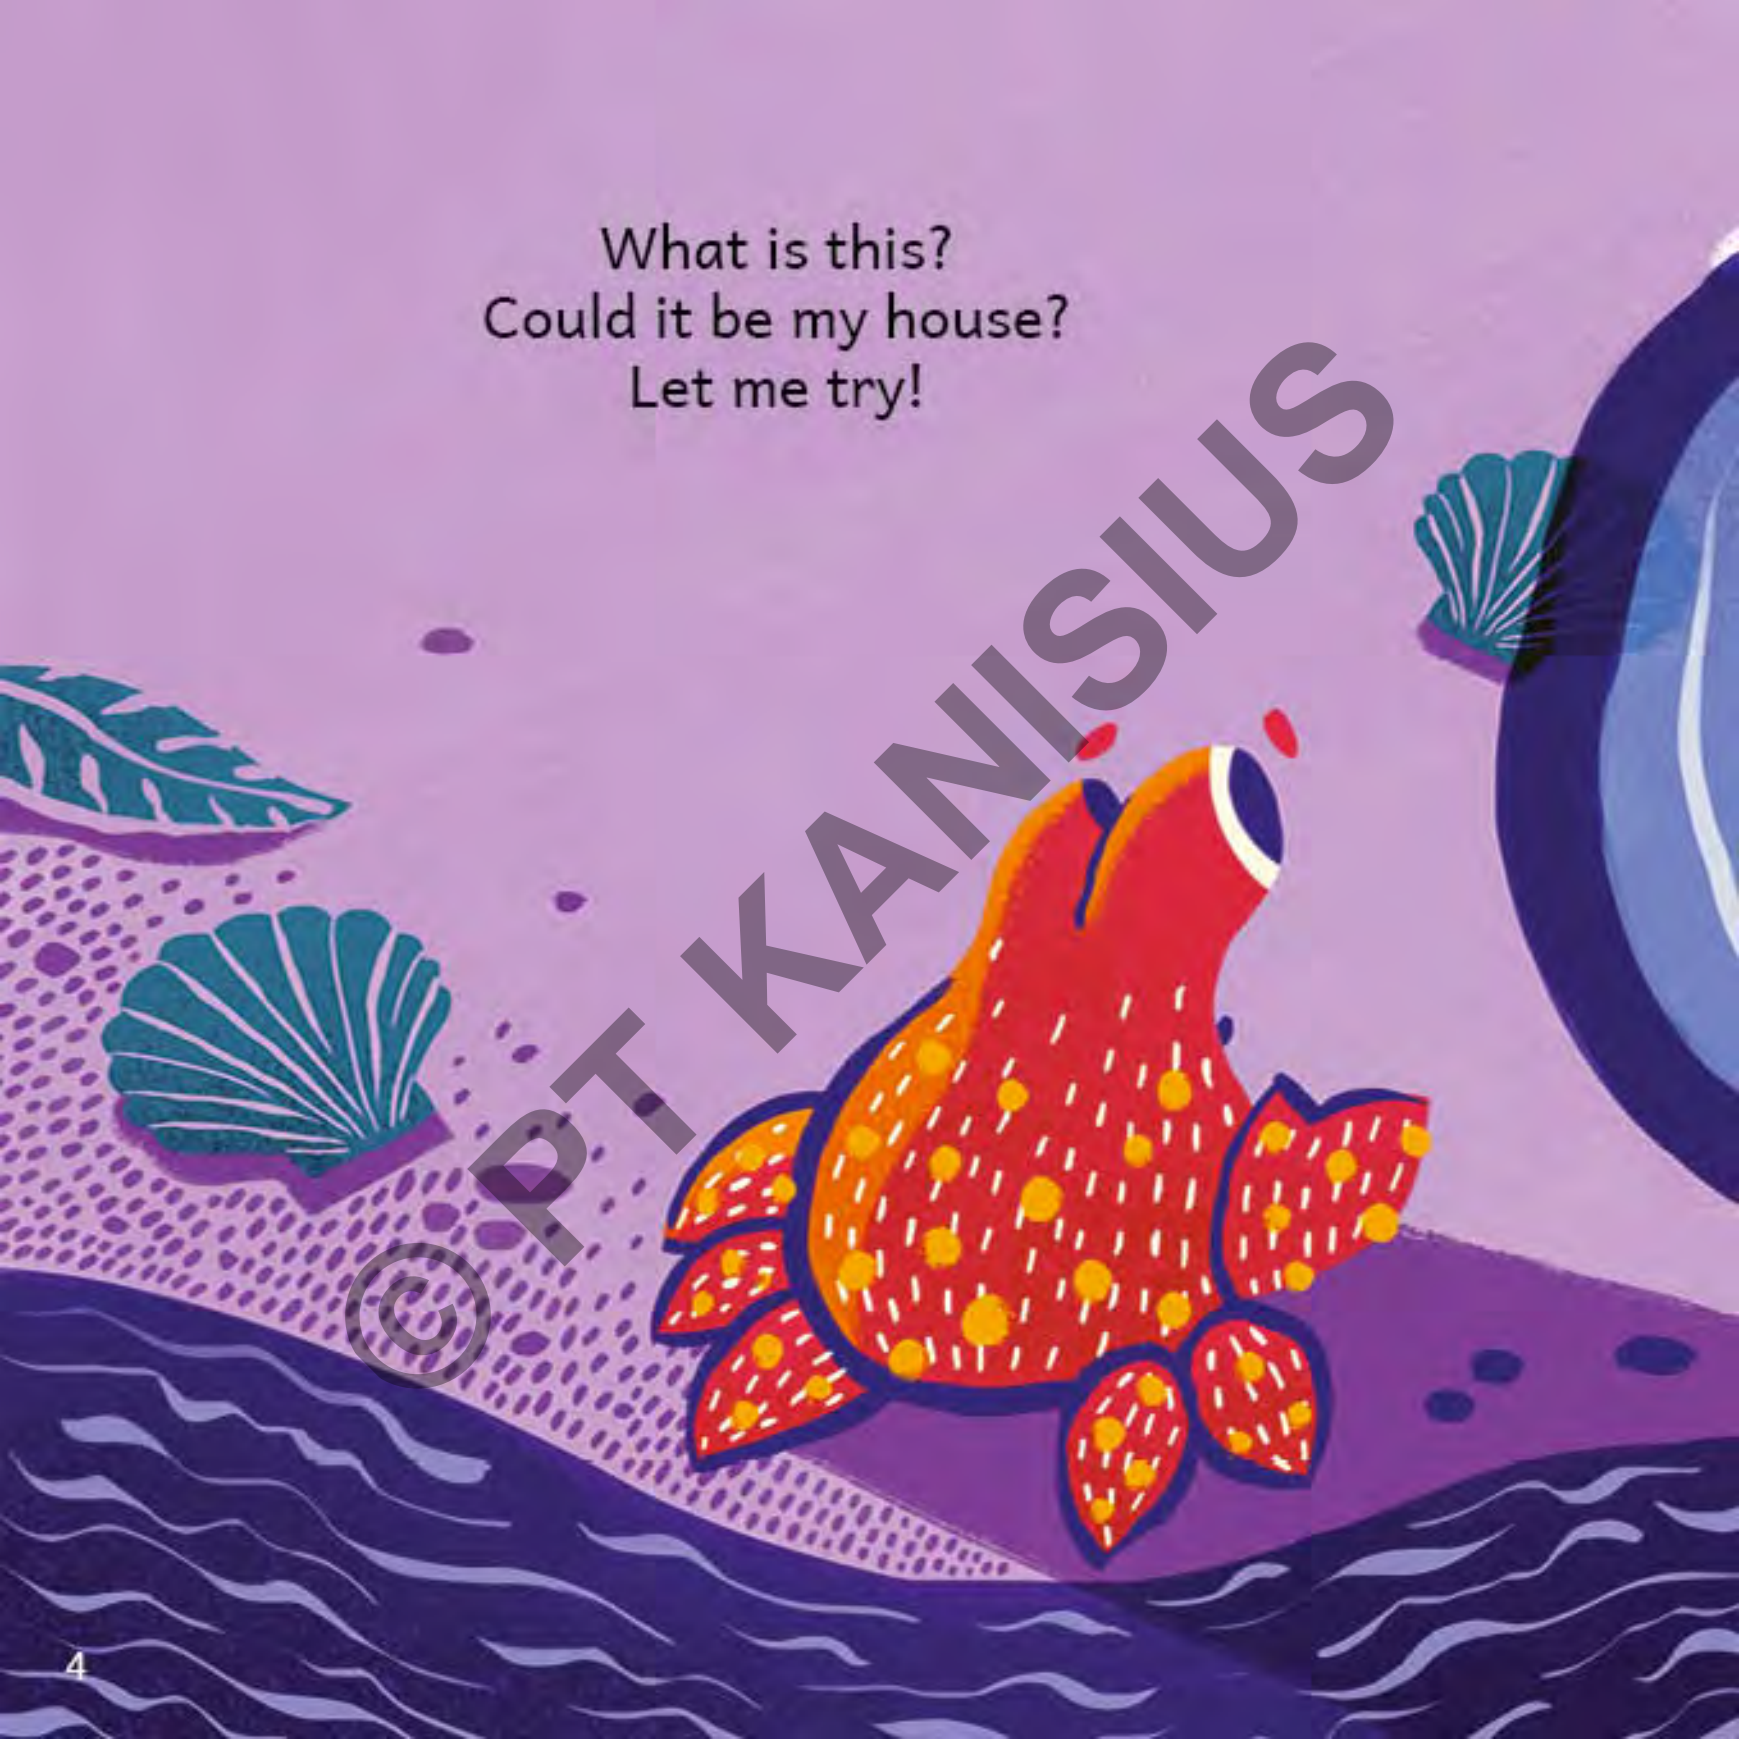

Calita Hin

I am Umang, the hermit crab.
I need to find a new house!
A bigger and more comfortable one.

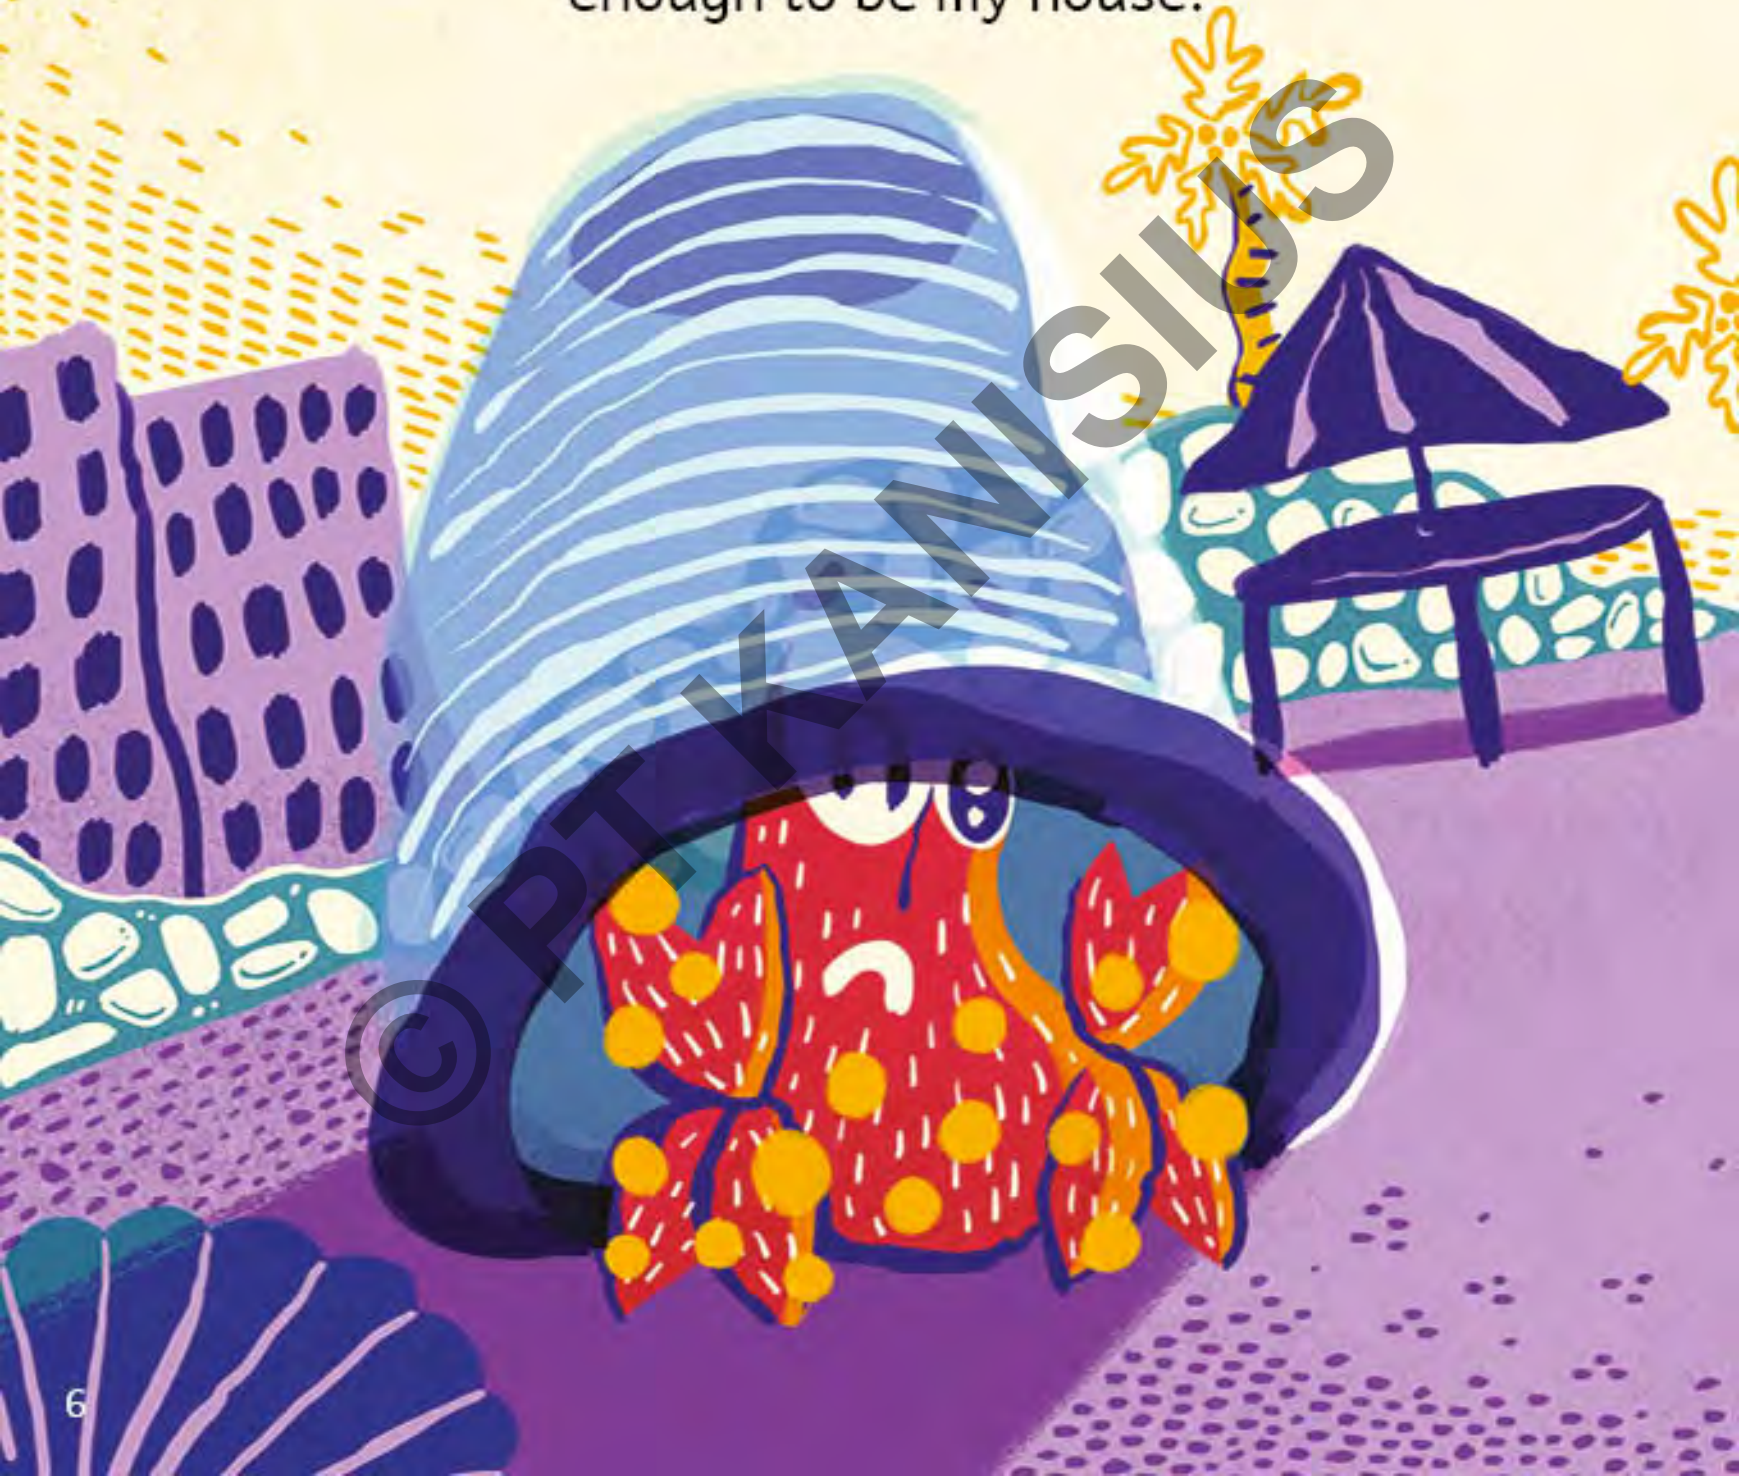

What is this?
Could it be my house?
Let me try!

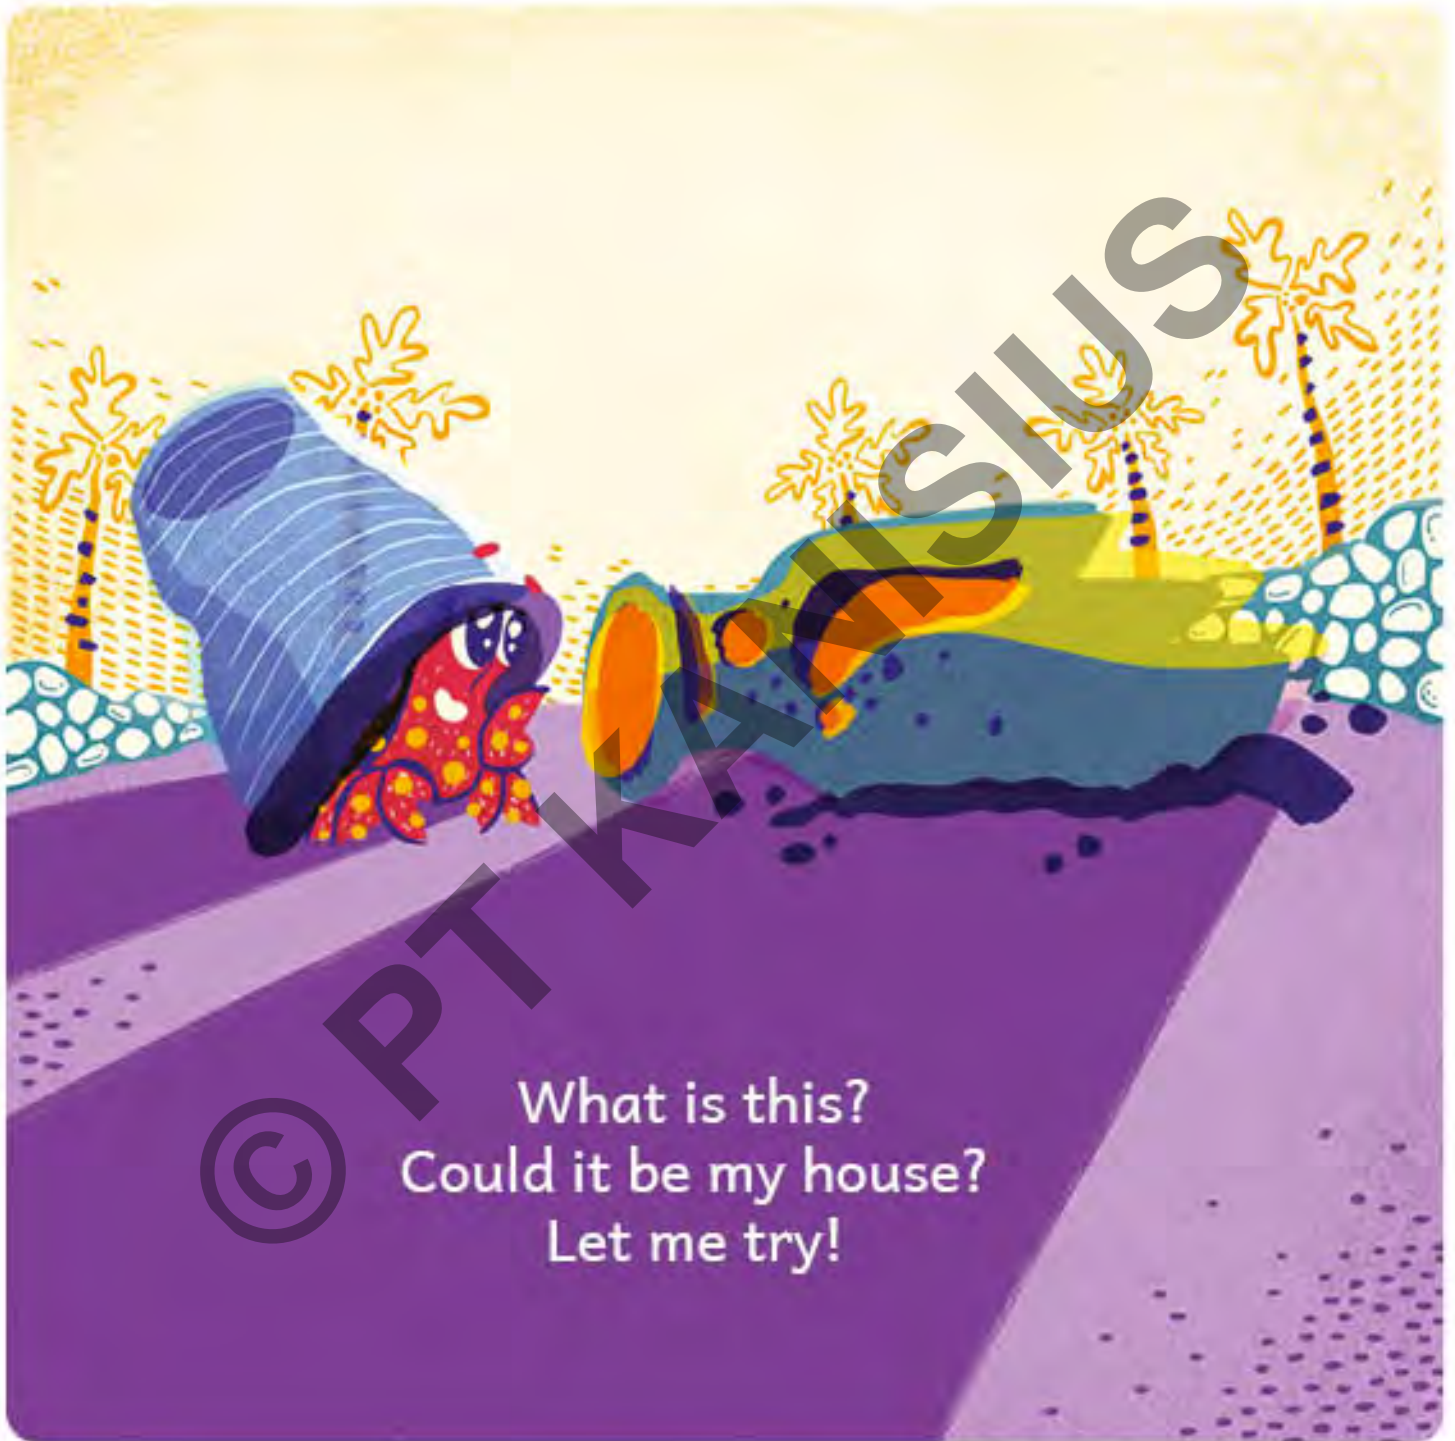

Ugh!
This is too big. It's not comfortable enough to be my house.

But what is this shiny thing?

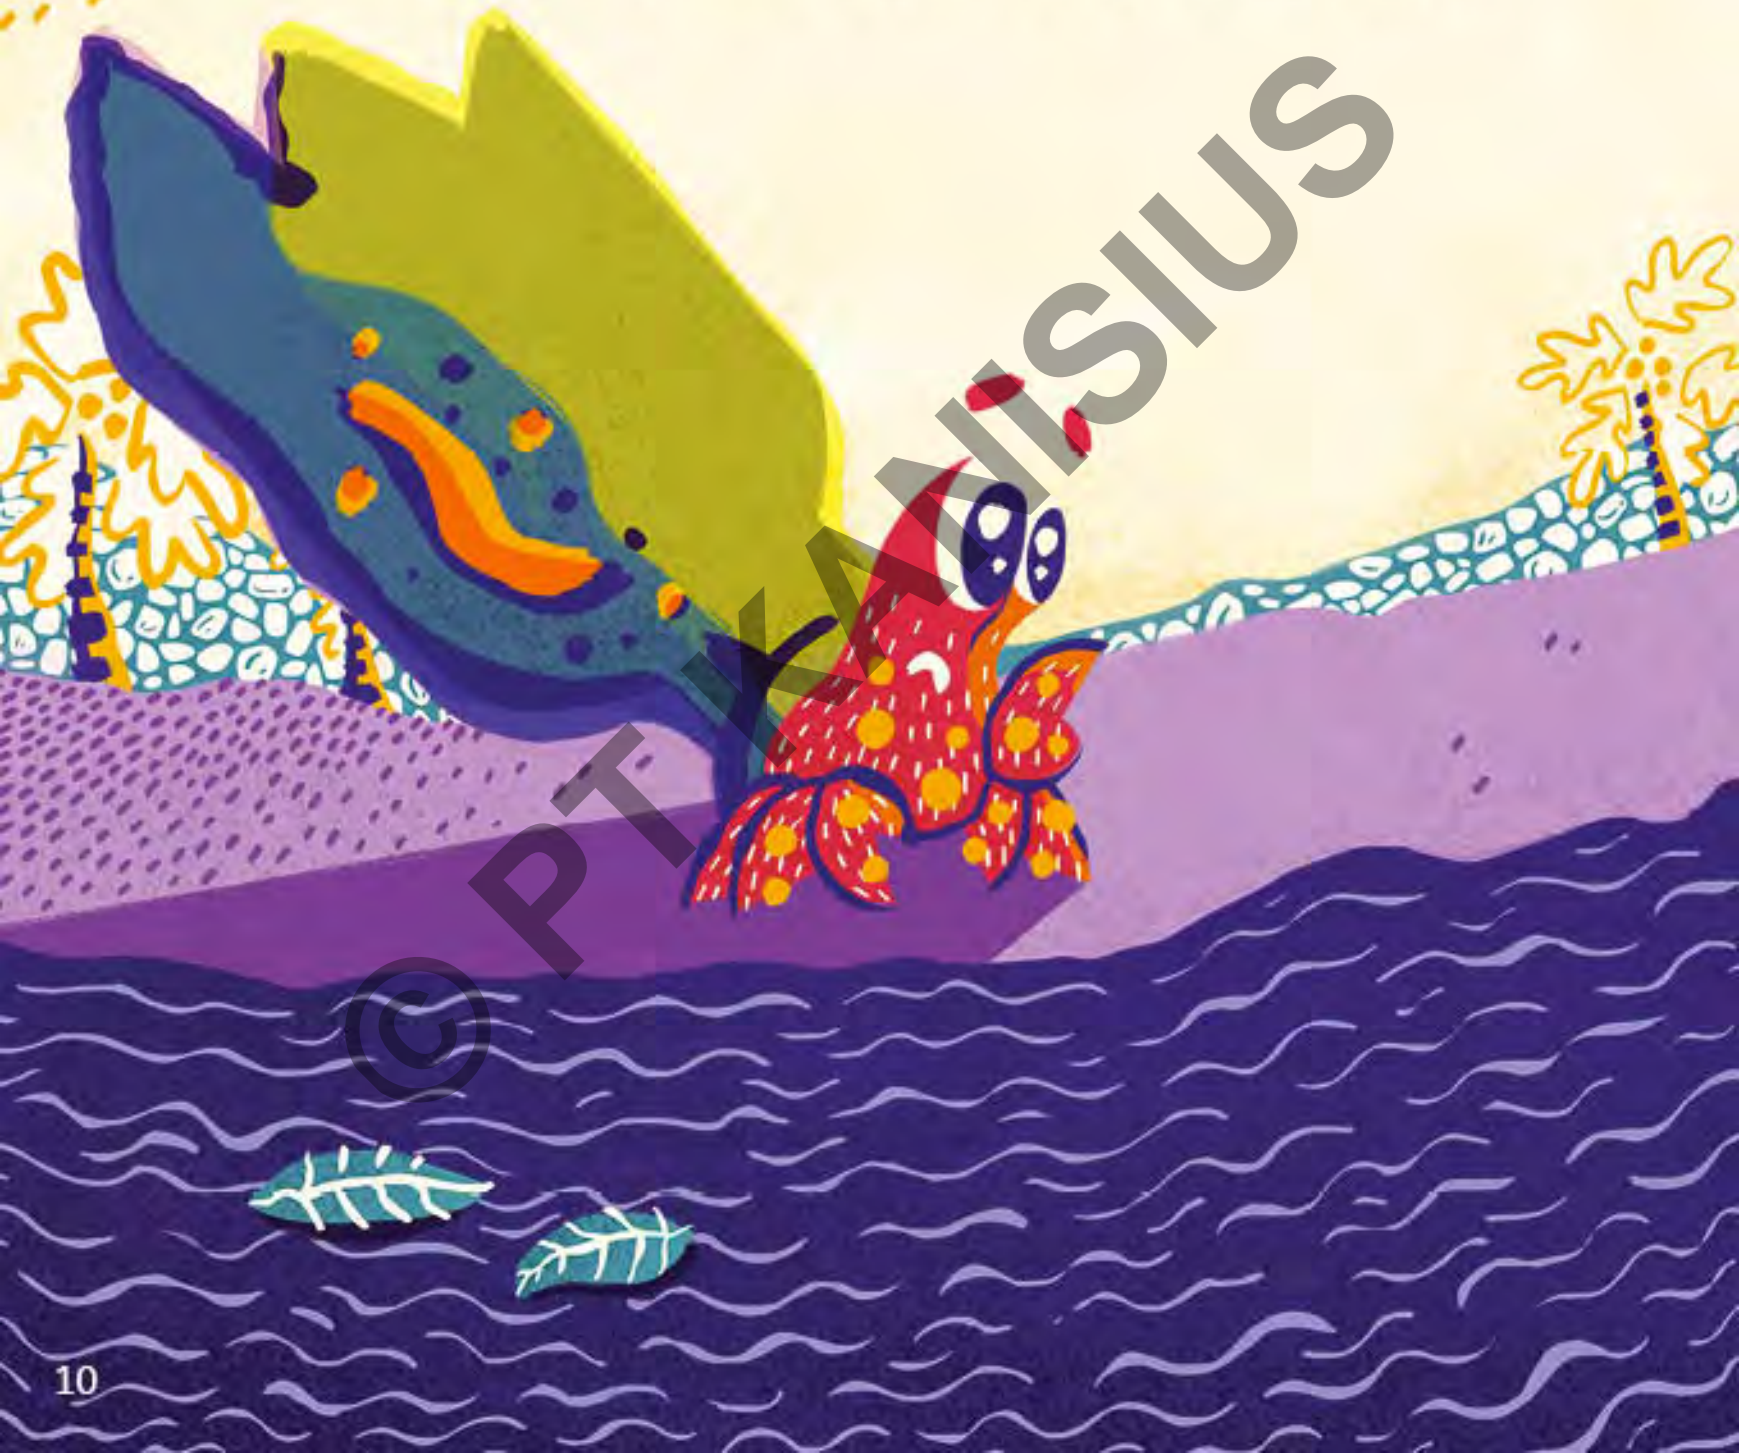

What is this?
Could it be my house?
Let me try!

Could it be my house?

This is not comfortable either.
Maybe I can find something under water!

Look, there's something interesting!
Maybe that could be my house.
Let me try!

No, this is too small.
Hey, what is that?
It looks interesting!

Ugh!
This house is too heavy.

Maybe I will find one on the beach.

Look! My friends have all found new houses.

Should I try one?

Hooray!
I love my new house!

Umang's house is too small already.
He has to find a new house.
He looks for on the beach sand and under water.
On the way, Umang finds a lot of unique stuff.
Is one of them able to be Umang's house?
Will Umang find a comfortable new house?

Elly Lingga was born in Pontianak, West Kalimantan. Elly loves her activities as a housewife who likes reading and drawing with her two children. Starting from the request of her children, she started trying to write children's stories.

Callita Hin believes that curiosity, empathy and creativity are the keys to a better world. She also believes that books are the perfect medium for cultivating curiosity, empathy and creativity. Callita has a dream that one day she can build a library full of books. Umang's New House is the first picture book she illustrates.
